RICHMOND'S GREAT GALA WEEK

SOLDIERS HOME AT CHARLESTON.

Tremendous Crowds of People--Southern Preachers Want Federal Aid to the Negro Industrial Schools of the South.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, May 19—Mr. R. W. Moore, of Charlot e Nor h Carolina, is a frequent visitor to Washington city, and usually stops at the National Hotel when at the National Capital. He was seen at the hotel yesterday and stated that he was just from Richmond, Virginia. He was there during the present week, and in speaking of other things said that the street fair of Richmond was one of the most unique things he has seen for a long time. A State fair, he says, has been held for many years annually at Richmond, but this year it gave way to a street fair. The principal street in Richmond he compares to "The Streets of Cairo." There are fully fifty thousand visitors in Richmond, he says, coming to the city for miles around. Saturday, he says, will be a gala day at Richmond.

The House committee on education heard the other day several southern divines in support of the bill of Representative Wise, of Virginia, to extend federal aid to the negro industrial schools of the South. They set forth the extent of the illiteracy, and the value of systematic efforts. It is generally hoped by those in Washington in the interest of this legislation that it may be adopted during the present Congress.

Senator Pritchard has presented petitions for the enactment of legislation providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report upon the commercial, industrial and economic conditions in China, Japan, and other Asiatic countries. The memorial came from the Southern Cotton Spinners' Association, and was ordered to lie on the table.

The bill for erection of a branch soldiers' home at Castle Pinkney, Charleston, S. C., harbor, is likely to come up for action shortly. Representative Elliot, of the Charleston district, has made arrangements with Representative Brownlow to call it up in the committee on military affairs on Tuesday next.

India Still Calling.

The following is an extract from Miss Clomer's letter of recent date. She has charge of an orphanage in Ajmere—children rescued from the famine.

"There are four months to go through yet and the suffering gets worse daily. Oh, it is pitiful to see men, women and children dying from starvation. Thirty-eight poor creatures who could bear their agony no longer, lay down on the railroad tracks for the train to end their misery.

Will you please print my letter? Perhaps some one may read it who will give us a little money. If it is ever so little we shall be grateful. And we need the prayers of God's people. We are almost worn out with our work and the awful sights we must see. We dread breaking down, if we were to be sick, who would care for these poor creatures?"

A Cumberland Man Outlawed.

The proclamation commands all good citizens of the Commonwealth to assist in capturing the criminal, and if it becomes necessary to slay him, "the same shall not be considered a criminal offence."

THE BOTTOM NOT YET REACHED.

Frauds in the Cuban Engineering Department Believed to be Even Greater Than in the Postoffices.

Havana, May 18.—General Wood says the report from Muncie, Ind., that nearly $2,000,000 worth of stamps have been printed there and sent for distribution to Cuban postoffices can be regarded as a canard. There is nothing here to show that any such counterfeit stamps have been sent. It is believed now that the whole story is known and that the amount of the defalcation will fall between $100,000 and $125,000.

Those who know the situation best say that the confession of Reeves was the only link required in the chain of evidence, although the principal statements he made will require investigation before they can be acted upon, as it is generally believed that his accusation is of such a startling character as to render it unwise to proceed further before being absolutely sure of other evidence to corroborate it. Another charge against Neely is that he has defrauded the customs out of several thousand dollars worth of duties by importing, nominally for postal use, large quantities of paper, which was afterward sold to a printing house in Havana. The Cubans are now beginning to talk a good deal regarding postal matters, the main idea apparently being that the Americans, having found so many of their countrymen implicated, will not proceed to extremities The Cubans do not believe that Neely will be extradited. With the confessions of Reeves and Rich, supplemented by those of the stamp clerks and by the statements of the Baracoa postmaster, it is considered that the evidence against Nelly is complete and inspectors assert that the stamps were not destroyed when they were supposed to be. Packages which were apparently stamps, were destroyed, but it is now said that these were so many bundles of paper bags.

The newspapers are now beginning ask for an investigation of the engineering department. They say that this department has been even more extravagantly conducted than the postal department.

Change of Firm.

The grocery business of the firm of Vuncannon, Cannady & Co., which is being closed out, has been bought by Mr. J. A. Cannady, a member of the firm. He will buy a complete and fresh stock of goods and will continue business at the present location.

Mr. Cannady, having retired from the railway service some time ago, will give the business his personal oversight.

The Boys Fell Out.

Wilmington Star.

When two young men fall desperately in love with the same girl there is always danger of something happening. In Trenton, N. J., two young men, aged respectively 78 and 64, who were much in love with a 28-year-old lass, met and got into a rough-and-tumble fight, which ended by the older shooting the younger boy in the wrist.

Chief of Police Scott last night received a communication asking him to look out for Major Law, colored, who is wanted in Danville for robbing a store of $78 in cash and a lot of cheap jewelry. The notice said he was accompanied by two or three accomplices

Emperor Francis Joseph, who is seventy years old, was recently advised by a high court official to take the baths at Gastein as a cure for rheumatism. He replied: "I have too much work to do now to think of going to a watering place. I shall begin to think of that when I grow old."

RELIEF HAS REACHED MAFEKING

THE LONG SEIGE AT LAST BROKEN

News Reached London Last Night That the Bombardment Had Raised the Seige. London is Wild With Enthusiasm.

London, May 18, 9:16 p. m.—Mafeking has been relieved. It was officially announced today that when the laagers and forts around Mafeking had been severely bombarded the seige was abandoned, a British force from the south taking possession of the place. President Steyn left Pretoria for the Free State last night. Addressing a crowd on the platform, he urged them to be of good cheer.

It is reported that 5,000 British troops have surrounded Christiana and that the landrost and other officials have been taken prisoners.

9:40 p. m.—The dispatch of the Associated Press announcing the relief of Mafeking, was posted outside the Mansion House and the news rapidly spread. A large crowd collected and at this hour all the streets in the neighborhood are already resounding with cheers. The war office at 9 o'clock had announced that no news had been received, but at 9:40 the lord mayor, Mr. A. J. Newton, in his official robes of office, announced the joyful news to the crowd outside. The lord mayor was accompanied by the lady mayoress to the front of the Mansion House, where an immense portrait of Colonel Baden-Powell was displayed, bearing the inscription: "Mafeking relieved." While the attendants were waving Union Jacks the lord mayor briefly addressed the assemblage, saying:

"I wish your cheers could reach Mafeking." Here the speech was interrupted by redoubled cheering and the singing of "Rule Brittania," after which the lord mayor remarked: "We never doubted what the end would be or that British pluck and courage would conquer at last."

The lord mayor then joined the crowd in singing "God Save the Queen" and "Soldiers of the Queen," and with renewed cheering and the waving of flags by the assembled multitude, and the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," the mayor and his party retired.

The masses of people outside the Mansion House soon grew to such dimensions that the police were compelled to divert all traffic, omnibusses, etc., through the side streets. The cheering is now incessant. The news was also announced in special newspaper editions and the tickets in all the resorts. In the west end, leading thoroughfares were impeded by a constant stream of the populace cheering themselves hoarse and singing "God Save the Queen" and "Soldiers of the Queen."

CELEBRATING ALL DAY.

London, May 19—For twenty-four hours all London has been celebrating the relief of Mafeking. The frenzy of the enthusiasm is unabated. Traffic is practically suspended and crowds are surrounding the mansion house.

RELIEF WAS DONE BY 1,5000.

Cape Town, May 19—The Mafeking relief column consisted of only fifteen hundred men composed of the Kimberly horse and South African light horse. The column was made up exclusively of Cape Colony troops with the exception of a contingent Yeomanry. There were three maxims.

Placing the Blame.

Chicago Post.

She looked at him scornfully, even indignantly.

"Would you let a woman stand while you occupy a seat?" she asked.

"Madam," he replied, "do not blame me. The fault primarily lies with your own sex."

"How so?" she demanded.

"I did not receive proper home training," he answered.

Senior Reception.

Last night the class of 1900 of the city graded schools gave a reception to their friends in the chapel of the Lindsay street school. In spite of the inclement weather, a very good crowd was present.

After various games had been played, dainty refreshments were served. The amusements of the evening ended with a grand cake walk, in which Tom Beall and Henry Marley were declared winners.

A TALE OF LOVE AND MURDER.

Old Man Turner's Protege Kills Him Because He Loved His Daughter.

Chicago Record.

A murder trial which begins in Isle of Wight county, Virginia, today contains all the materials for an old-fashioned romance. Beverly Turner, a rich and proud planter down in that country—a typical Southern gentleman of aristocratic lineage and pride of birth—had a beautiful daughter, Isabella, who was reared in luxury, educated with great care and was the idol of her father's heart. The overseer of Turner's plantation, named Carter Gilligan, of humble Irish origin, had a son about the age of Isabella in whom Mr. Turner took a great interest and furnished the means for his education. The planter's daughter and the overseer's son played together as children, and living on an isolated plantation, were thrown together constantly for the lack of other playmates. When they reached a certain age both were sent away to school and saw little or nothing of each other for several years, and when their education was finished and they returned to the old plantation they frankly renewed their early companionship. Mr. Turner encouraged the ambition of his overseer's son to be a gentleman, while Isabella fell in love with the handsome manly protege of her father. Her affection was reciprocated secretly, because young Gilligan realized the social gulf that lay between them and knew the old man's pride and temper.

Last fall the secret of their love was accidently discovered by Mr. Turner, who flew into a furious rage, ordered the young man to leave the plantation forever and forbade his daughter seeing him or communicating with him in any way Young Gilligan, however, found means to correspond with his sweetheart and last winter returned to his home to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents.

On the night of December 27 Mr. Turner was shot and killed on his own premises and circumstantial evidence made it clear that Gilligan was his murderer. It is believed the father discovered his daughter holding a secret interview with her lover in the garden and that the latter shot him in self-defense, but the daughter, Isabella, was the only witness of the crime and upon her testimony alone her lover must be acquitted or conviced.

The Firemen Score a Success.

Although the elements were against the firemen, knocking them out on the first round, they braved the weather and held their lawn party last night in the Banner Warehouse. Considering the circumstances, the attendance and patronage were both satisfactory. Most of the cream, strawberries and other delicacies were sold, the firemen realizing a net profit of about $25.

The firemen appreciate most heartily the assistance and patronage given them.

ST. MARY'S COLLEGE BURNED.

LOSS WILL AMOUNT TO $100,000.

The Finest Catholic School in the South. Property Valued at $400,000--A Lack of Water Left the Building at the Mercy of the Flames --- Narrow Escape of 175 People.

Special to the Telegram.

Charlotte N. C. May 19—St. Mary's College, at Belmont, five miles south of Charlotte, was partially destroyed by fire early this morning.

When the structure was discovered to be on fire 175 people were in the building. All of them escaped.

The origin of the fire is unknown. There was no water supply, which left the structure practically at the mercy of the flames.

St. Mary's is the finest Catholic school in the South, the property being valued at $400,000.

Father Francis telegraphs that the loss will amount to $100,000, partially covered by insurance.

BURIED THIS MORNING.

The Remains of Mr. Fitmaurice Laid to Rest.

Funeral services over the remains of the late J. R. Fitzmaurice were held in St. Andrews's Fpiscopal church this morning at 9 o'clock, conducted by the rector, Rev. J. D. Miller, assisted by Rev. Horace Weeks Jones. The services were simple and impressive. The floral offerings, mute testimonies of the affection of the dead man's friends, were numerous and beautiful, the casket and altar being covered by a profusion of flowers.

The following kind friends sent flowers: Mrs. Mary C. and Miss Fry, Ladies Aid Society of St. Andrew's church, St. Andrew's church vestry, Mrs. J. D. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fry, Rev. John C. Schmidt, Mrs. W. R. Murray, Mrs. George Vernon, Mrs. J. W. Harris, Mrs. Chalmers Glenn, Mrs. J. Van Lindley, Mrs. W. C. Baren, Misses Lucy Vernon, Ada Sampson, Minnie Whittsett, Mary Seaton Gales, Rebecca Schenck, Mrs. T. N. Carpenter, Mrs. Joseph M. Morehead, Mrs. J. N. Staples, Mrs. John Dick, Mrs. W. P. The services were concluded by Rev. Mr. Jones at Guilford College, where the body was interred.

Mr. Fitzmaurice was in many respects a remarkable man. Of a quiet and retiring disposition, he posessed those characteristis which attracted and held the friendship of those with whom he was thrown in contact.

He was born in 1828, in the Tower of London, of which his father was gentleman at arms. He was born in the room in which Lady Jane Gray was confined and from which she was led to execution. His education was obtained at Edinburg University.

With his wife he came to America 25 years ago and settled at Guilford College, moving to Greensboro 15 years ago.

Proximity Suits Thrown Out.

Late yesterday afternoon Justices Wolfe, Collins and Pearce heard two more suits brought by discharged employes against the Proximity Manufacturing Company. The warrants were sworn out by A. M. Garwood and J. C. Underwood. After hearing the evidence, the magistrates decided that the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover damages, and accordingly both cases were dismissed. Mr. J. C. Meekins, attorney for the plaintiffs, gave notice of an appeal to the Superior Court.

The Telegram is told that about a hundred other discharged employes have arranged to bring suits of like nature against the Proximity Manufacturing Company.

A MASS OF DEGRADED FLESH.

WIFE BEATEN ALMOST INTO A PULP.

And When the Unutterable Monster, Called Husband, Was Sentenced, He Smiled. The Post Thinks That Such Brutes Ought to be Flayed or Broken at the Wheel.

Washington Post.

A local report in the New York World of a few days ago speaks for itself and needs no introduction:

"Recorder Goff called it 'the most remarkable case of neglect, cruelty and starvation that has ever come to my notice.'

"Joseph Kenna, a big driver, of 744 East Ninth street, was accused yesterday of beating his wife inhumanly. He pleaded guilty of assault in the second degree.

"The physicians at Bellevue said that the woman was black and blue from head to foot and was nearly dead. For six days between the time of the beating and April 10, when the case was discovered, she had lived on two eggs, one cup of coffee and one cup of tea. The children had had almost nothing.

"Mrs. Kenna was in court yesterday, assisted by an attendant. She would not testify. Recorder Goff said to Kenna:

"'Your wife is a mass of bruises from head to foot. As a result of your blows she will probably be eventually blind. She has lost the sight of one eye and may lose that of the other.'

"Recorder Goff sentenced Kenna to three years in the penitentiary. Kenna smiled."

Smiled? Of course he smiled. He had gratified his brutal instinct. He had beaten, maimed, almost killed and deliberately starved the wretched woman who depended on his mercy and his care for her very life. Whatever savage hatred he had nursed in his vile thoughts; whatever bestial vengeance he had contrived and formulated in odd moments of diabolical intelligence, this hapless woman certified and emphasized through the medium of her cruel wounds. If the devil himself, with all his fiends to aid and counsel him, had taken the matter in hand, it could not have been managed with more absolutely fiendish ingenuity. The woman was not actually dead. There was no corpus delicti, but everything in the nature of joy, of self-respect, even of the most degraded vestige of humanity, had been beaten out of her. She sat there in the court—refusing to prosecute or give evidence—a mere battered and brutalized and ruined derelict, robbed of her human heritage, despoiled of her pride, reduced to the level of a cowed and tortured beast!

And when Judge Goff pronounced the sentence, the unutterable, indescribable monster "smiled!"

How long, we wonder, will civilization tolerate this maddening, this shameful spectacle? How long will society permit these odious ruffians to escape with a term in some luxurious prison. where they will be pampered with unaccustomed comforts and surrounded by the most assiduous vigilance, nursed into health and strength, and so invigorated for new and more successful infamies? How long will our lawmakers ignore the miserable women and children—victims and martyrs of a ferocity more appalling than Nero or Commodus ever dreamed of—how long will they shut their eyes to horrors which pass all power of words? Three years in prison! Three years of safety, of bodily comfort, warmth, abundant food, sound sleep, and wholesome appetite! No wonder this vile monster "smiled." It was for him a reward, a boon, a lift in life, security and full in the present—happy prospects for the future. He "smiled," of course, and society congratulated itself upon the machinery of justice maintained at its expense, while the maimed, mutilated, tortured victim of this brute's savage fury returned to the frightful desolation she knows as "home," to hold a starving baby to her withered breast, and ask, in the dull stupefaction of her anguish, whether she is brute or human—whether God reigns and God's followers (soi-disant) know what Christ meant by love and pity and compassion.

Where are the lash, the whipping post, the knout? Why do we in this age of so-called sweetness and light, pamper the devil and neglect his victims? These fiends and ruffians should be torn and mangled and flayed alive. The civilization that shrinks from this is a false and maudlin parody of Christianty. It is an insult to high heaven!

Philadelphia has raised the last dollar of the $100,000 guarantee fund, and so the Republican convention is safe.

False Teeth of Antiquity.

The manufacture and use of false teeth are undoubtedly of great antiquity. The ancient Egyptians were no mean dentists. Jawbones of mummies have been found with false teeth in them, and also with teeth filled with gold. The ancient Greeks also knew how to fill teeth with gold; also how to make false teeth.

There is plentiful evidence of skilled dentistry among the Romans, for many of the Latin authors have references to false teeth. In the "Roman Laws of the Twelve Tables" there are distinct references to artificial teeth. The first part of No. 10 forbids useless expense at funerals in general, but an exception is permitted by No. 11, which allows that the gold fillings of false teeth or the gold with which they were bound should be buried or burned with the deceased.

The Most Ungrammatical.

A literary man who has just returned from the anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania says that he found a great quantity of "local color" there. He also says he heard the most ungrammatical sentence while there that ever came under his notice. He was strolling through a mining village in Schuylkill county when he heard a woman calling, and at some distance off saw several children who were playing in the road. When he reached them, he said kindly:

"Your mother is calling you, children."

The largest child, a girl of about 10 years, turned to him and said:

"Her ain't a-callin we; us don't belong to she."—New York Times.

Officers of Athletic Association Elected—Raleigh to Picnic at the Park.—Promise of a Large Attendance at Commencement.

Durham, May 19, 1900—Mr. W. W. Flowers leaves today to visit his father's family at Taylorsville. After a short visit there he leaves for Europe, sailing from New York May 26. He goes abroad on an extended leave of absence to continue his studies at northern and foreign universities.

Mr. Flowers was graduated from Trinity in the class of '94. He was afterwards connected with the Durham Graded Schools, as teacher, principal, and finally superintendent. A year ago he resigned the superintendency and returned to thec ollege to give instruction in German and pursue his own studies. He has been a bright student and an unusually successful teacher. He is a young scholar of great promise and those who know him predict for him a brilliant career.

The local alumni of the college held a meeting on Wednesday and appointed committees to take charge of the different interests of the alumni for commencement. The prospects are that there will be a very large attendance of the alumni and old students. The attendance at commencement this year promises to be very large.

The Athletic Association has elected officers as follows: President, J. K. Wood, Asheboro; Vice-pres., G. H. Flowers, Taylorsville; Secy. and Treas., L. H. Gibbons, Wilmington; Manager Base Ball Team, L. A. Rone, Goldsboro; Ass't Manager, Fred Odell, Concord.

A large party from the college will go to Auburn N. C., to view the eclipse May 28th. The party will go well supplied with all the necessary apparatus for viewing and for photographing the sun at the different stages of eclipse.

The Sunday school of Edenton Street Church, Raleigh, will have a picnic at the Park on Saturday. There will be a very large crowd. Several other Sunday schools are contemplating holding their picnics here. It would be hard to find a more suitable place.

Prof. P. T. Durham is away to fill engagements at the closing exersises of the Cary High School, and the High School at Farmer, N. C.

Mr. Lewis Elias, class of '99, spent some time at the Park on his way home from Columbia University, where he has been taking work in the Medical School.

Mr. H. E. Newberry of Magnolia, N. C., has donated to the college a large collection of choice flowers. A large plot has been devoted to this collection and the plot named for him.

President Kilgo is now in his new residence. The house is a very handsome one and adds very much to the appearance of the campus.

The South Greensboro Baptist church will use their new house of worship for the first time tomorrow. There will be Sunday school at 3 o'clock, and preaching at 8 o'clock by the pastor, J. A. Hackney.

BATTLE COURAGE.

In Action the Animal Nature Takes Full Possession of Man.

At home, in a progressive community, a man may be a coal heaver or a bank clerk; but, whatever his station, the environment of civilizing influence is strong upon him, and most of his chances for the display of courage come to the moral side of his nature. But out in the open, with most of the trammels cast off and the enemy in front, with the ripple of the colors about him and, more than all, the feeling that comes from companionship in a common danger with many of his fellows, it is the animal that gains supremacy. And man, being by nature a brave and fearless animal—the most fearless of all the animal species—simply remains true to his birthright and goes through the ordeal in the natural way.

What can be the deduction? There is only one. It is that battle gallantry and battle brutality, springing as they both do from the same source, must necessarily be allied. You cannot slip the leash of a bloodhound and stop him half way to his scent. If any proof were needed to make the fact of inherent bravery and—the other thing—certain it is to be found in the marvelous change in face, manner and even speech that comes over nearly every man when he is engaged in battle.

It may be urged that the excitement of being under fire would be sufficient reason for this callousness, but such an explanation will not account for the entire subversion of a man's whole life training. The real reason is that at such times it is the animal nature that takes full and complete possession of the human body.—Chicago Times-Herald.

EDITOR'S AWFUL PLIGHT

F. M. Higgins, Editor Seneca, (Ill.,) News, was afflicted for years with piles that no doctor or remedy helped until he tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve. He writes that two boxes wholly cured him. It's the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton druggist.

Bare feet are almost preferable to some shoes. The kind that it is necessary to break in generally make a man break out and say things. We had made purposely for comfort a lot of men's fine kid shoes in lace and congress. The prices are right.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRAH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air, blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardrer, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

He saw the hole in the sack when he was filling it. But it was such a little hole that he thought it wouldn't matter. Out of that little hole he lost his grain while taking it to market.

It's that way with holes in the health. None are so small but life can leak out of them. "I've got a little touch of indigestion" says one man. Another says, "my stomach feels a little out of sorts." It is just such little things which if neglected mean the total loss of health.

The one medicine for disorders and diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the activity of the whole digestive and nutritive system, clears away obstructions, stops the loss the body sustains by undigested or partly digested food, purifies the blood from the poisons resulting from imperfect digestion, and increases the secretions of the blood-making glands. "Golden Medical Discovery" has a wonderful record of cures of so-called "hopeless" cases.

Mr. Thos. H. Rudasill, of Henry, Lincoln Co., N. C., says: "After having suffered from inaction of the liver and all the troubles usually attending such a condition for over twenty years, and having deluged my system with floods of medicine from every available source, and being only temporarily benefited thereby, I applied to your institution for treatment You instructed me to take a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I am now doing. Although unable to strictly follow directions I have derived more actual benefit from the few bottles I have taken so far than from all the other remedies together.

Allow me to thank you for your prompt and courteous attention to my case as well as for the good received from it."

THE EVENING TELEGRAM.

—BY—

The Greensboro Publishing Company.

R. F. BEASLEY, Editor and Manager.

Subscription price: $4.00 per year; $1.00 per quarter; 35c per month; 10c per week.
OFFICE—111 South Elm Street.—First door south of the government building.

W. I. UNDERWOOD, City Editor.

SATURDAY, MAY 19, 1900.

TWELVE PAGES.

The Telegram may be excused for expressing a little pride in its issue today—the first twelve page daily paper ever issued in Greensboro, not as a special addition, but for the purpose of accomodating a regular run of advertising. The people are learning the value of our advertising columns, and investing their money in them. We put on the additional pages that our regular amount of reading matter may not be sacrificed, and with the reading matter and the line of advertisements, this evening's issue will be found to be a very interesting paper.

BE NOT OVER CONFIDENT.

We fancy that the Telegram yesterday printed about as interesting if not important little bit of political gossip as has been going for some time. The piece referred to is the account of the meeting of Mr. J. A. Adams, brother of the Republican nominee for Governor, with Mr. Aycock, the Democratic candidate, and waving the white supremacy banner which he carried, saluted him as the next Governor of North Calolina. We refer to this merely because it suggests the enthusiasm and confidence which Democrats are now experiencing. All observers agree that the only danger to Democracy lies in over confidence. There is no shadow of a doubt of carrying the amendment if the work is kept up, the only danger being, as stated, that Democrats may become too sure and slack up in their efforts. The Republicans are now moving and will continue to move, heaven and earth, so to speak, in their efforts. Let no Democrat cease to work, and victory is assured.

God bless the Children—Richmond Times.

He always does. It is only man who abuses them.

There seems to be some doubt about the formation of the big new tobacco company told about in yesterday's Telegram. It is to be hoped that the company has not only been formed but that it will hold out, and really buck the American Tobacco Company.

We have seldom read a more scathing article than that which appears elsewhere from the Washington Post concerning the brute who was tried in New York for beating his wife. We heartily agree that there is no punishment too severe for such brutes, and the only punishment that they care for is corporal punishment.

The statement elsewhere that the Cubans are beginning to say that the United States will not proceed to extremities in the matter of the post office frauds because so many Americans are implicated, is significant. It shows that the Cubans expect us to do exactly as Spaniards did—steal and rob and keep it hushed up. A greater duty has not been imposed upon Mr. McKinley's administration than the present one, which is to show the Cuban people that the American nation is honest, even though rascals sometimes get into office.

An effort is being made to boom ex-Governor Jarvis for the position of president of the University and the names of other "retired" politicians have been mentioned in connection with this important place. No man who has the interests of the University or the educational interests of the State sincerely at heart would suggest a politician, and especially an old and worn-out politician, for this important position. It would be better to close the doors of the University at once than to have it die of the dry rot, which it would most certainly do under such management. The man who is placed at the head of the University should be first a teacher—a young, vigorous, active and progressive man—not an old fossil looking for a job.—Statesville Landmark.

Trustees of the University are now daily receiving stacks of letters recommending this or that man for the presidency of the State University. Some folks seem to think that the place must be filled almost before Dr. Alderman vacates. This is a matter in which a little time, a good deal, in fact, may be profitably spent in looking around and avoiding fossils.

Allen's Minstrels,

The climax of all tented amusements, A. G. Allen's Big Original New Orlean's Colored Minstrels, will appear here Wednesday night, May 23, under canvas. The company numbers more than 100 people and includes some of the best singers, dancers, cakewalkers and colored specialty artists known among the colored race. Mr. Allen is the originator of the tent idea and he has succeeded in getting together a minstrel organization of such a size and magnitude that would be impossible to be produced in an opera house, and owing to the large seating capacity of his tent he is enabled to place the price of admission at 15 and 25 cents, thus giving the public an opportunity to witness a dollar show for that small sum.—Adv.

Senator Clark Bounced.

Butte, Mont., May 18.—Governor Smith today sent three dispatches from here to W. A. Clark, Senator Chandler and President Frye, of the Senate, saying that he had disregarded and revoked Lieutenant-Governor Spriggs' appointment of Clark to succeed to the Senatorial vacancy, and saying that he had named Martin McGinnis, of Helena, to fill the vacancy. The Governor gives as his reasons his opinion that the appointment of Mr. Clark by the Lieutenant Governor was tainted with collusion and fraud.

The New York papers of yesterday say that Stephen Crane, the well known writer, who has been ill in England for some time past, is in a desperate condition, and that there is no chance for his recovery.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

"Paradise B'iled Down."

A tourist tells how he traveled with a young couple evidently on their honeymoon, and the passengers in that particular carriage were on the grin most of the time over their antics.

The bride had got the man she loved, and she didn't care who saw her put her head on his shoulder. The bridegroom had got a farm with his wife, and if he wanted to feed her on sweets or squeeze her hand whose business was it?

A little old man sat directly opposite the couple, and he looked at them so often that the young husband finally explained:

"We've just got married."

"I knowed it all the time," chuckled the other.

"And we can't help it, you know."

"No, you can't. I'll be blowed if you can!"

"I presume it all seems very silly to an old man like you," continued the husband.

"Does it? Does it?" cackled the old fellow. "Well, I can tell you it does not, then. I've been there three times over, and now I'm on my way to marry a fourth. Silly! Why, children, it's paradise b'iled down!"—London Fun.

Like Unto Like.

"And love restored his reason," said the sweet young thing in concluding her story.

"It is the first time," returned the old bachelor, "that I ever heard of insanity curing insanity."—Chicago Post.

How to Get a Genial Dog.

A vagrant dog, particularly a cur with seven or eight different strains of common dog in him, is the best kind of a dog to own. He is always smiling and wagging his tail at you, and his appreciation of little favors is only equaled by his appetite. A fancy dog with a blue ribbon around his neck is always looking for an opportunity to snap at children. If we kept a dog, we would keep a yellow one, purchased as a pup from a negro boy.—Atchison Globe.

A Coffee Hint.

A French housekeeper says that in her country it is an invariable rule to add a little butter and powdered sugar to coffee beans while they are roasting. A very small piece of butter is needed to the pound, a bit perhaps as large as a hazelnut, and not more than a teaspoonful of powdered sugar. This treatment is the secret of the pleasant burned sugar flavor in French coffee.

When a man wants to break away, the first symptom is his declaration to the girl that he is afraid he cannot make her as happy as she deserves.—Atchison Globe.

FIRST SOUTHERN COTTON MILL.

Was Built by Michael Schenck, an Ancestor of Judge Schenck, of Greensboro---Was Erected in 1813, With Seventy-Two Spindles, and Began Operating in 1815.

F. L. Templeton in the Wake Courier.

At the dawn of a new century, when the hum of millions of spindles is filling the land, and vast cotton factories are springing up all over the South it is interesting to go back and review the beginning of this industry in Dixie. In 1813 Michael Schenck, a citizen of Lincolnton, began to construct the first cotton factory that was built south of the Potomac. This factory was erected one and one-half miles east of Lincolnton, and was run by water power, having only seventy-two spindles, and yet it was the beginning of the great factories that are today turning out millions of dollars worth of the products of the fleecy staple, and more than anything else, helping the war-wasted New South to take a place at the front in the industrial world. Michael Schenck's little factory began work in August, 1815, and proved so profitable that in 1819 he formed a partnership with John Hoke and Dr. James Bivins, men of means, and the firm established the Lincoln Cotton Factory, with 3,000 spindles. This factory was built on the South Fork of the Catawba river, two and one half miles south of Lincolnton. This factory was run with marvelous success. People came in wagons hundreds of miles to trade for "factory spun yarn," and it was incalculable convenience to this section, where the carding and spinning was all done at home by hand. The property where the first factory was located was bequeathed to Mrs. Elizabeth Schenck McDaniel, a daughter of Micheal Schenck, and this property remains in the possession of the McDaniel family. The old factory buildings have long since disappeared. The McDaniel family retain as relics some of the original machinery.

Judge David Schenck, of Greensboro, a grandson of Michial Schenck, sent one of the original spindles to be exhibited at the Atlanta Cotton Exposition in 1881.

She Was Posted on Finance.

"It is simply impossible to keep posted on everything," said a clubwoman to a Daughter of the American Revolution.

"Yes, indeed it is," admitted the D. A. R. "But sometimes, if you are not quite posted, you can wriggle out of a difficult situation without seeming so very ignorant. For example, I was just saved by my presence of mind at a D. A. R. meeting the other day. Professor Sparks of the university, you know, read a lovely paper on 'Gouverneur Morris, Financier of the American Revolution.'

"'Who is this Gouverneur Morris?' said a friend of mine from the Fortnightly club. 'Seems to me I never have heard of him.'

"There were half a dozen women around, and I was frightfully embarrassed. I never had heard of Gouverneur Morris either; but, you know, a D. A. R. is supposed to know all those things.

"'Oh, don't you remember?' I said. 'Morris was the man who financed the government and borrowed a lot of money to do it.'

"'Thank you,' said my friend from the Fortnightly.

"Now, the fact is, you know, dear," continued the D. A. R., "I really knew nothing of it whatever except that Professor Sparks' subject said that the man had financed the government, and I knew if he did that he must have had to borrow a lot of money."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

His First Earnings.

A few years ago a large party, headed by the Duke of Norfolk, went on a tour through the continent. The duke busied himself very much on the journey in a kind hearted way about the welfare of every one in the party. At every station he used to get out and go round to see if he could do anything for any one. One old woman, who did not know him, when she arrived at last in Rome, tired and hot, found great difficulty in getting a porter. So she seized on the duke.

"Now, my good man," she said, "I've noticed you at all these stations loafing about. Just make yourself useful for once in your life. Take my bag and find me a cab."

The duke mildly did as he was bid and was rewarded with a sixpence. "Thank you, madam," he said. "I shall prize this, indeed! It is the first coin I have ever earned in my life."

Misjudged.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., NOV. 26.

I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.

Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles", other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means that terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nerves on edge—the blues— despondency and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhœa. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York

THE OLDEST, LARGEST AND BEST INSURANCE COMPANY IN THE WORLD!

ASSETS DECEMBER 31st, 1899, - - - - $ 301,844.537.52
INSURANCE IN FORCE DECEMBER 31st, 1899, - 1,052,665,211.64

Below are some FACTS and FIGURES which will interest every one holding a Life Insurance Policy.

THE NEW YORK FINANCIER, one of the ablest of American financial papers, has been studying the enormous resources of The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and has made some interesting and amusing deductions. It says:

To make the bold statement that The Mutual Life Insurance Company is more powerful in assets than all the financial institutions in New York City, considered from the standpoint of capital, may invoke surprise, but the assertion does not convey the whole truth. The capital and surplus of all the Clearing House banks in New York City is $149,402,700, and of the "non-member" banks of New York, Brooklyn, Richmond, Jersey City and Hoboken, $15,500,000 more. The capital and profits of all trust companies of New York and Brooklyn add $114,200,000 to this total, making in round numbers $279,100,000, or $22,000,000 less than the assets of The Mutual Life Insurance Company. Thus this one corporation could absorb at the book value all the capital stock of the 150 banking institutions of Greater New York and surrounding cities and have left $22,000,000, which would more than cover the capital stock of the thirty-three National banks of Philadelphia.

This of itself seems startling, but it does not afford a real idea of the potentiality of $300,000,000. The entire surplus and undivided profits of the 3,595 National Banks in the United states, according to the most recent report of the comptroller of the currency, amounted to $350,000,000, or only $50,000,000 more than represented by the assets of this one company. To carry the comparison further, it may be said that The Mutual Life's assets are about one-half the National banking capital of the United States. In the six New England states, there were in operation on October 31st last, 568 National banks, with capital of $142,455,770, and in the thirteen Southern states, 544 National banks, with $63,178,450 capital. The fourteen Western and Pacific States reported 220 National banks, with $28,584,000 capital, are in operation and the statistics show that the 199 banks of Texas and the sixteen of South Carolina employ about $21,000,000 additional. The assets of The Mutual Life are therefore large enough to absorb the entire National banking capital of the 1,803 National banks in thirty-six of the more important States in the Union. The National banking capital of the twenty-nine institutions located in the State of North Carolina is $3,001,000, or exactly one-hundredth part of The Mutual Life's assets.

There are in the United States 28 reserve cities, with National banking capitol as follows:

New York	$47,900,000	Louisville	$ 3,200,000
Boston	39,600,000	Milwaukee	2,950,000
Philadelphia	19,555,000	Washington, D. C.	2,755,000
Chicago	18,450,000	Kansas City	2,300,000
Pittsburg	12,050,000	Indianapolis	2,100,000
Baltimore	11,888,260	New Orleans	2,300,000
St. Louis	11,400,000	Albany	1,550,000
Cleveland	9,900,000	Brooklyn	1,352,000
Cincinnati	7,700,000	Portland, Oregon	1,100,000
San Francisco	6,000,000	Houston, Texas	1,100,000
Minneapolis	4,000,000	Des Moines	800,000
St. Paul	3,800,000	Savannah, Ga	750,000
Omaha	3,750,000	Lincoln, Neb	550,000
Detroit	3,300,000	St. Joseph, Mo	350,000
		Total	$232,470,260

This sum, representing the capital of 318 of the largest banks in the United States—institutions deemed important enough to carry the reserved funds of the National banks of the country—is still $68,000,000 less than the total of The Mutual Life's assets. The difference represents all the surplus and profit funds of the banks of the cities of Pittsburg, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Milwaukee, San Francisco, Washington, D. C., Chicago, Indianapolis, Louisville, New Orleans and Baltimore.

The $301,000,000 assets of The Mutual Life, if converted into bills of one dollar denomination and laid edgewise in a straight line, would extend to a distance of 7,000 miles—that is, across the continent to San Francisco, across the Pacific, and across China. The Company could build the Nicaraugua Canal and have $150,000,000 left for the construction of fifty battleships to protect it. It could create a navy larger than that now owned by the United States, and it could equip and maintain an army of one million men for one year at full pay.

As illustrative of the strength of The Mutual Life, it is interesting to note that its assets are greater than the assessed valuation of the real estate and personal property of many States. The following statistics illustrate the point:

	Area Miles	Total tax Valuation 1899
Arkansas	53,800	$179,171,998
Mississippi	46,810	182,888,598
Alabama	52,250	256,256,295
South Carolina	30,570	173,237,105
North Carolina	52,550	265,867,197

In the same way the States of Washington, Colorado, Nebraska and others, show similar results.

The net bonded debt of the city of New York, approximating about $300,000,000, is less than the resources of this Company, and the entire valuation of the city of Pittsburg, Pa., the greatest manufacturing center in America, is only $16,000,000 in excess of The Mutual Life's assets.

AGUINALDO HEARD FROM AGAIN.

He Issues a Proclamation Urging the Filipinos Not to Surrender.

Manilla, May, 18.—A proclamation purporting to have been issued by Aguinaldo, and dated May 4, from Polillo Island, one of the Philippine group east of Luzon, is circulating in Manila. It says the commission appointed by President McKinley was appointed without the authorization of Congress and that hence it cannot treat officially. It urges the Filipinos not to surrender their arms at the instigation of the commission, and on promises which Congress may not ratify, and he also urges the Filipinos to enthusiastically welcome the commission when it arrives in the towns and provinces, asking them boldly for the form of government they most desire, as the Americans permit freedom of speech. The proclamation closes with asking the Filipinos to still strive for liberty and independence and again warns the commission against deception.
